Hi Terri,

As discussed with Chloe, Amy Crane was referred by Cathy Rowe at Chorus for “Assistive Technology - handrail in toilet”.
The property is owned by the Housing Authority, therefore the recommended modifications were funded and completed by the Housing Authority and no NDIS AT form was required.
You will find Ming Wong’s initial report attached along with the updated version sent by email, which Amy was also CC’d into.

Regards,

Mia

Called Amy in regards to see if her goals are still the same and she stated yes they are I just informed her that I was just checking as they will need to be in the report, Amy then stated that when it becomes summer she would like to go to the pools and general stuff like that.

Amy asked what is happening with the cleaner and gardener I've organised and I stated she has sent me an email asking for details so I will send her an email regarding the days and times that Amy has stated for her to come for a trail and if she likes the cleaner and gardener she will stop services with Chorus and keep this cleaner, Amy then sated what is happening with the the handy man and I stated that with the notes that was done when her and Vida was on the phone it wasn't written clear with exactly needing to be done and she got quite frustrated as she stated she doesn't like repeating herself.

Amy stated that she does not like repeating herself as its not her job, what needs to be done is putting shelves up and cleaning gutters and trimming hedges and cutting back trees and general garden/ handy man stuff, I stated that the cleaner and gardener does do house maintenance and that kind of stuff but Amy stated that a female cant do stuff that men are suppose to do but she will give her a go and if she likes her she will make it continuous.

Amy stated about her SW from St Jude's how she isn't reliable or when she does come she is late and stated I should be keeping on track of them and making sure there going to their appointments as she isn't happy with them. Amy has cancelled her Tuesdays appointment with them but is still going ahead for the Friday at 9am. Amy stated she wants me to call them every week to make sure their all up to date with their roaster and making sure their being reliable.

Amy stated she wants me to call Chorus and check in with everything and make sure they are being reliable and going to all their shifts as when they cancel Amy gets very upset and frustrated.

Amy has requested that she does not want any cultural people.

I stated to Amy I will send the email off to the cleaner now and ill send an SMS to Amy once we have the details, I stated I will give St Jude's a call to follow up with the SW and see what has been happening and same with cleaners for Chorus.

Good afternoon Amy,

That is great news, I will start to find a gardener and handyman for you Vida has been out the office so I have not been able to get a chance to get the information from her for what is needed. Can I please ask what days and times would suit you for a gardener and what is needing done for a handyman to come out?

I have received the plan that has been extended and there is still only a little amount of hours for support coordination, what I can do is put a request for a s100 to ask for more hours however this will not happen straight away it will take some time.

I hope your having a great day!
I am feeling much better thank you.

Regards,

Hi Chloe that's no problem at all.
Yes I should have supports from St Judes for Tuesday's and Friday's starting tomorrow.
Gardener and handyman are still needed, the lawns are getting a bit wild.
I went over all my support requests with Vida so could please get them from her as I can't remember all off the top of my head.
Also a request for 60 hours support coordination has to be put to NDIS.
As said Vida has all the info you and I need.
Glad your feeling better.
Sincerely
Amy Crane
