Regular massage - beneficial for PTSD sufferers 2. Salt flotation therapy - beneficial for PTSD sufferers 3. Respites 4. Funding for recreation tours and recreation activities 5. Hi Rachael

This is to keep you in the loop regarding emails to Simon and Leah in the last few months (forwarded, read below) and attached are two relevant documents for my plan review. I hope that you will find time to read this all and the documents.

My original diagnosis was Dysthymic Disorder and recently PTSD. In the attached discharge papers from my stay at the Acute Psychiatric Unit (APU) in Bunbury earlier this year the psychiatrist diagnosed me with Cluster B personality disorder and Adjustment Disorder but I don't know how this fits in with my previous diagnoses. I also had an admission to emergency earlier this year for a multi-drug overdose but chose not to go to the APU after recovering in hospital from my overdose but then I crashed a month or so later and was admitted to the APU for around 8 days and that is where the discharge papers are relevant.

On top of that I have allergies to 5 different allergens - house dust mites, cockroaches, moulds, olive tree pollen and mixed weed pollens. I'm getting desensitisation therapy treatment for 4 of these since earlier this year but not for the mixed weed pollens since the allergy clinic can only treat 4 allergies at a time. My allergies affect my depression and energy levels quite significantly and I suffer from allergy reactions very regularly at least weekly and sometimes the reactions last for weeks and I am quite unwell during these periods but the degree of illness varies very much but is entirely unpredictable. I'm not sure that my physical ailments are being taken seriously by the NDIA in terms of my plan and I feel that they're only looking at my mental illnesses.

One glaring error in the OT report from ORS is that it states that I have access to a bedroom in the house of the property Iive on. This is absolutely not the case and I sleep in my caravan each and every night but I do have access to the house to use the bathroom, toilet, laundry, kitchen and living areas. Personally I think the OT report from ORS is quite overly optimistic opinion terms of training me for work since my allergies can be quite crippling and limiting at times and make me very depressed and I can't see that I'd be capable of any kind of work until my allergies are properly relieved by specialist treatment which will take years, at least another 2 years for the 4 allergies that I'm currently being treated for and then I'll need to start desensitisation treatment for the 5th and final allergy over another 2-3 years.

Call me if you need more information or documents.

Regards

Frosty

previous emails to Leah and Simon

To: FFG - Leah <leah.n@ffg.net.au>

i Leah

From our recent phone chat today, Here's the original email I sent to Mayra and Simon a little while ago and attached are two documents, one from a Busselton based psychiatrist Stephen Proud where I saw him privately shortly after my hospital admission for a suicide attempt earlier this year and he diagnosed me with PTSD. The second document is the discharge papers from the Bunbury Regional Hospital Acute Psychiatrist Unit from a roughly week long stay there a couple of months after my suicide attempt where the head psychiatrist has given a primary diagnosis of Adjustment Disorder but also an unspecified Cluster B Personality Disorder. I'm guessing that with the unexpected departure of Mayra some months ago that this information has fallen through the cracks and was missed by FFG and that is understandable but here it is again now.

I think these new diagnoses reinforce that I'm struggling quite a lot this year and that I've gone up on the scale of mental health impacts that indicates that I have significantly higher dysfunction and recovery needs than when was I originally was interviewed by the NDIA (APM Busselton actually) for my initial NDIS plan. This is on top of very long running physical illnesses in the way of often crippling sinus and allergy problems. Very recently, as we discussed today, my Mum has had a fall a few weeks back and has a very badly broken right arm (she is right handed) and I am now having to cope with the additional stress and emotional triggers of being her carer and living in her house temporarily to provide her with 24/7 support and care. Mentally and emotionally I really feel quite unwell at this time but doing my best to cope with caring for my Mum, where without such close support at her home then she would be in an aged care facility for 3 months or more and would be undoubtedly very unhappy there. Lucky for me she understands how fragile I am just now and is very cooperative and not very demanding and is trying to make my job as easy as possible. My Mum's tougher than me and is an amazing woman.

I just want it made quite clear to the NDIA that my level of illness and needs are significantly higher now than when the year and my initial plan began and as I said, time and events have also moved quickly since my initial interviews for my functional capacity assessment with Gita of ORS and my present situation is much more complicated and difficulties have increased even since those interviews with ORS. The situation is so different now to when I did my original interviews with ORS that it almost necessitates a new assessment, I think but probably not practical to get done. Personally I think the training and employment recommendations in the ORS report are quit e overly optimistic and also some of the other recommendations in the report are overly optimistic too. I feel that the next two years of my life will need to be focussed solely on getting some kind of recovery up and going as a high priority and I simply can't run before I can crawl or walk.

Thanks very much for our chat today and you understand the seriousness of my current situation quite well.

Regards, Frosty
