28/02/2022	Alex Bowers	1 hr	Meeting	Plan Review Meeting - SC X2	Plan Review Meeting was contacted today at 1:00pm with Caitlin the LAC along with Vida and Myself with Vida speaking on behalf of Penny as she is not feeling up to it today. Vida has spoken to and asked Caitlin about the SDA funding being approved at the last Plan Meeting. The SDA approval was sent through to Vida via email but the SDA was not stated in the Plan it self. Caitlin has informed us that SDA was approved on the 29/09/2021 and has stated that it will now be included in Penny's new plan. Caitlin has also informed us that the NDIS panel has reviewed the request for SIL funding and has unfortunately declined this at this stage. Caitlin has informed Vida and Myself that we will need to provide a new and up to date FCA/ SIL Assessment for Penny as she is now in a wheelchair. this will allow us to reapply for the SIL funding. We have been informed that from now on, no matter how many plan review we go for with Penny that the SDA funding will NOT be affected and will NEVER be removed from her plan. Vida has asked for a small portion of the plan to be self managed by the request of Penny. Caitlin has stated that this will not be possible at this plan meeting although she will set aside some funding	$100.14

please see below for Penny's message.

Penny: 9:11pm 07/02/2022
There are no rentals in Donnybrook.
You know I adore houses built in the 50s with their character and Jarrah floor boards high ceilings Victorian, Edwardian but a new house will be the opposite. Hot and stuffy. If we found a house like that can the builder make it suitable?
We will be starting with a one level house.
The housing market is awful right now.
The first time I looked I found a couple of amazing places but nothing now.
If we got a block of land with a little cottage on it, can we Build the house there as well?
Or find a block of land with a big shed on it? So I can still work?
I've told Kev I want to sell this house while the market is awesome. If I've then got some money would that help like add to it? So maybe could get a bigger house?

I'm still waiting for an assistant both you and Vida told me about couple weeks ago. Where are they,???
I've really lost passion for my business, not being able to work alone.
What happened to the cleaners?
Are they not interested in working here? The NDIS cleaning service?

Alex: 8:36am 08/02/2022
Good morning penny, I will pass this on to Vida for the housing side of the message, I am still looking and sorting out the SDA with NDIS but I understand your requirements/ requests so I will pass this on to her so she is aware also.

Today I will be looking in to the assistant, as I told the lady that asked me that you said yes to it so I do not know why they have not made contact.

The cleaners should be coming we had spoken to them on the way home from the meeting we had. I will also look in to this today.

Lastly I am just wanting to confirm that you are still wanting to come on the cruise this weekend in Perth? So I can finalize the details for you. If you could let me know about that ASAP that would be great so I can let the people who are organizing the even know you are still coming.

ow. Hoops you have a great day.

Good afternoon Penny,

Okay No worries, I think a general clean isn't what you are needing.

I will keep looking for a professional de-clutter for you, it might be a bit difficult as the area you're in but I will try my best.

If you are happy for me to do so I can try and look for a psychology for you that's in your area and will travel to you.

We were about the book it yesterday for your respite but Terri was not in for us to book it in. I will continue to look for you if your happy for me to do so.

Kind regards,
Chloe ??

Jesus!
The making soap bit first is a complete lie. Never said anything even remotely related. Obviously she misunderstood.
I'm not even capable of working right now.

The second part however
Is taken out of context but I did spill my guts. Can't remember why it came up but I started crying about my dog and said I would be at risk when she dies. We quickly changed the subject. I'm not suicidal though.
I told her too much, and regretted it. this was at the end of the job and she was packing up. I would have apologised further if I'd had her number. I hated that I shared personal stuff to a complete stranger and i felt very vulnerable afterwards.

It's not the entire reason she cancelled though, she already said there was too much to do here that i needed a skip, and she recommended someone else.

Good afternoon Penny,
Hope you are well.

I have back to back phone calls and SMS from the Emma's director stating that when Emma came to do cleaning that you were asking them to help make soap and talking to them about how if you dog was to pass away you would kill yourself and that you are suicidal.

I do appreciate the fact that you are willing to talk to someone about how you feel, however. Them things are meant to be discussed to a psychologist or a mental health support worker, not a cleaner.

A cleaner does not have clue what to respond back and they could possibly say something that can make the situation worse.

I would firstly like to ask if any of that is true as I would like to hear your story as well as theirs.

They have cancelled all ongoing cleaning, I will continue to find a domestic de-clutter.

Thank you,
Have a great day ??

I had the cleaner from Wonnerup cleaning services call me to discuss about what happened when Emma went to Penny's the other day. He stated that when Emma went there that Penny was talking to her and she though that Emma was there for helping her make soap and just to have general chat, Penny stated to Emma that she wont let anyone upstairs until she can trust them and was asking about what she should throw out or what she can keep. He stated that it isn't Emma role she was only there to clean. I stated that i informed Penny that it was only for a clean i stated that i will be ale to find her a domestic de-clutter who can help with the hoarding issue.

Penny stated to Emma that if she were to lose her dog that she would kill herself and that she wouldn't be able to live without her dog, Penny also stated to Emma that she is very suicidal. He stated that it was very difficult for Emma as she was aware that it was only for a clean. I stated that i informed Penny that it was only for a clean. I sated that i will send Penny a email stating that Emma isn't a mental health support worker or a domestic de-clutter. He stated that he will probably have someone who would be a good fit that would be able t have that chat with her and help with her hoarding problem and her name was Lindy Hutton. I also informed him that i had a SMS from Penny stating Emma used her washing liquid and now there is hardly none left and she is low on paper towels, Penny thought that they brought their own cleaning products. He stated that they bring all their own cleaning products so he thinks that they wouldn't have used Penny ones unless she asked her to. I asked if he could please ask Emma what happened and if she did use the stuff or not.

He then sent me a SMS asking if Penny said that they used her washing liquid and paper towels, He then stated that there was an empty detergent bottle on the floor and it was picked up and put in the bin. I stated that yes Penny stated that she thought that you used your own cleaning product as she was left with no washing liquid and no paper towels. I asked for him to confirm that what happened and if Emma used Penny stuff or if she had used her own. I asked if the cleaning will be still happening tomorrow or if i will be on hold until they have the lady who is able to do the mental health support working and the de-cluttering.

He then stated that they will not be going to Penny's house again and that they didn't appreciate the situation and he stated that they didn't use any of Penny's items. he stated that as i can see Penny is very ill, a hoarder and recluse and that i should have never send people in there without them first knowing the history, He then stated that he will be raising t his with my director as it was an unsafe situation for his staff and that next she will be accusing them for stealing her stuff.

I stated that thank you for confirming that they didn't use the products and that before they stated cleaning with Penny and before we organised anything i had given them a background on what she is like and her disabilities, I stated that imp sorry he is frustrated but i did my part and i did inform who i spoke to when we were arranging this to be booked in that i had informed them on Penny's diagnosis. I stated i wouldn't send a cleaner to a clients house without them knowing a background and their disability.

Good afternoon Penny,

I have spoken with Evie regarding the respite and she has informed me that she sent you an email with different accommodations on the 4th of October. Did you receive that or would you like her to send it again?

That's okay I will have a look and see what I can find, I think most do deserts is there any desert that you would prefer or if you are allergic to anything? I will try my best to find some SDA housing options in them areas and get a few quotes.

Thank you so much for taking the time to write that it did help me understand a little bit more of what you need.

I will try my best to see what I can do.

Kind Regards,
Chloe ??

Thanks Chloe
I don't want to be too picky with meals, eg, i like battered snapper sometimes and chips.
Like do they give deserts?
I wouldn't want to miss dessert if it's got gluten. Haha

So any house i rent out must be guaranteed long term. Im a home body so my house is very important.

Sorry i dont have a counsellor yet, no one to ramble to
If i could rent to buy would be fantastic!!!!
There's actually a business called that, saw yesterday.
I don't like dalyellup but.... they do have some nice houses big.
I am intolerant of noise so neighbours are out.
I know it's making it harder every sentence i write.

My thoughts are if i get a house near Donny brook, i can drive back here to the workshop to create and fulfill orders and i can take what I like to fill the new house.
I'm hopeful i can do it that way too much stress to clean up everything, that's why i was dreading the whole process.
It's also urgent i get respite away from my house mate before i kill him. Lol he makes me so angry, every day.

Sorry Chloe, this isn't really helpful to you.
