Meghan has sent myself a SMS stating "i talked to the man who cooks too now there wont be a misunderstanding"

i have said to meghan " what misunderstanding would there be Meghan?, i just want to clarify this so i know what is happening please"

Meghan replied with "no I've fixed it" i have replied with "i understand you have meghan, but what was the misunderstanding? i do need to know so i can understand everything clearly.

I'm trying my very best Meghan i really am, i don't like seeing you like this and i would like for you to trust me one day" meghan has replied with "things shouldn't be this hard, yesterday when no dinner was left he (the cook) had been told to put all (meals) in the other fridge (office) i trust him. and you have no need to talk to him. I'm done trying to understand i wish i did not rely on you and this house i lasted four days by my self but today need to shower and wash my cloths. you don't understand so please stop saying it"

I have stated to meghan "well unfortunately i do have to talk to him as this is part of my job, i asked him to leave you, and only you meals and then all leftover to be put in our fridge so the other house mate does not take any of your meals. i do not understand what you mean by this shouldn't be this hard to understand? what in particular is bothering you meghan i need to know so i can talk to the bosses and make changes, this is how we help you meghan, if you don't tell me i cant help you."

meghan stated "like i said Misunderstanding" i have replied saying "ok, with what exactly meghan please talk to me so i can help" meghan has then stated that she is done and there is nothing left to say today. i have replied to this with "ok meghan i will leave you alone, let me know if you need anything please"

i have not had a reply.

I have been trying to understand why meghan will not come here when the SW is here to come and wash her cloths or shower or do anything she used to do here. I understand that the other house member is making Meghan feel very uncomfortable but this is why the SW is there for meghan so She can feel safe and to be able to do the thing she needs. i will be speaking with Vida about this as meghan is becoming quite agitated and not wanting to talk to me. i have been trying to explain everything to her and how we have to follow procedures and follow the law, i feel as though Meghan does not understand this and this is why she is feeling uncomfortable.

please see attached all images of the conversation with Meghan for reference and Details. i have also written all of the messages for reference.

Meghan has not been taking her medication as when she has them she becomes quite sleepy and as she "cant stay in the house" she has not been taking the medication. there is no reason Meghan can not stay in the house, she is choosing not to stay due to the other house mate as he makes her feel uncomfortable and quite anxious. Meghan has Stated that she is confused as to why there is no SW at the house over the weekends, when Donna asked meghan if she would like to see if Donna can do some shifts over the weekends but meghan said she does not want anyone over the weekends to be with her, so i am quite confused as to which she would prefer. Meghan has also stated that she does not like one of the staff members here as Meghan feels as if the staff member had lied to her and does not feel safe around her.
