Subject: Re: Equipment query [SEC=OFFICIAL]

Good Morning All,

As requested, I have a few very minor corrections to the equipment listing that was sent out by Karen G, (as derived from various OT/PT reports and our descriptions).

The following 4 items. we brought back to Aus from our Southern California home:

The Office chair is approx' 7 years old, it has armrests.

The manual chair was made ˜ 1988,. It has rust on some frame members, it has had several homeowner (non-professional) repairs, the left hand brake does not stay latched It has a cushion from a lawn chair. It was donated to us by a senior center.

Myra has a folding power chair, it is considered to be a transport/ shopping chair for use over very smooth prepared surfaces,more than a daily use chair,
It was purchased ˜ 5 years old. There are no Australian service vendors for this Chair. It has a very limited range. It has to be manually folded and then lifted into the back of the vehicle. It weighs ˜ 41 - 43 Kg. The OT did not believe that most people should be lifting this kind of weight at the amount of arm extension required to put it into the vehicle?

Myra has a Pride Jazzy 1120 power chair, I believe it was made in ˜ 1998. It currently does not have any Brakes, when not moving. it also does not have any usable Batteries. It was purchased from an estate sale for ˜ USD 500.

Since arriving back in Australia, we have had donations of, or purchased the following:

A Zimmer frame, Folding ˜ 2 years old, and in reasonable working condition, (purchased, via Amazon.au prior to NDIS). Rubber feet on rear legs, rubber wheels on front legs.

The 4ww refers to a "4 wheel walker" donated by a member of Myra's Hoya gardening club.

rear doors) is not traversable due to fire, etc.

Yes, the chair in the shower is a plastic garden chair, before NDIS we had investigated a professional fold-down bench shower seat, but we have not been able to pursue this any further.

The non-slip mat is for moving in or out of the shower, it is not under the plastic garden chair. Just an ordinary K-mart bath mat, nothing special.

We have 2 toilet seat risers, one on each commode, ˜ 100 - 125 mm of rise.

There are 2 or more Handicapped rails in both bathrooms, and also 1 in the hallway water closet, (toilet).

I do hope that I answered all of your questions, accurately and thoroughly.

Once again, we do thank everyone for all of your assistance and kind consideration.

Hi Barry the abiloader brings the wheelchair right to beside the drivers door so transfers are direct from the drivers seat to wheelchair
If however Myra does need to use PWC this is not an option with the abiloader due to weight requirements of loading.
Kind regards, Simone

Subject: Re: Quote for Vehicle Mods

Boy things are moving along,??

So about the "Abiloader",

I know that NDIA is concerned about cost, (as they s/b) so they may share my concern that this "Abiloader'' option will not always be a good fit?
On certain days Myra would be too fatigued to use her walker and then enter the vehicle via the Driver's side door. if this happened she would be trapped in the parking lot. With the ramp and driver seat mod, she can always enter while in her wheelchair.

Something else, is that for these same reasons, the "Abiloader" is not "Future Proofed", in the years ahead, even if she permanently loses her ability to use a walker, she would still have her chair, and the ability to use the ramp & the driver seat mod?

just thinking ahead,
Thanks & have a good weekend
Barry & Myra Davis

ition from outside the vehicle when trialling at Midland City Kia/Hyundai with our Fleet dealer Rich.
2. Boot hoist for wheelchair
• This was a viable option however did not allow for any further deterioration in ability from Myra as she would have to walk from the back of the vehicle to the driver's position and would also have to stand at the rear of the vehicle for a considerable time to operate the hoist while stowing the chair.
• Myra would also have to have her frame available to her and fold it and bring it into the vehicle over her body. The difficulty with sowing the frame where she usually does (better the seat and console) would become an issue as the Veigel would be there.

Both Barry and Myra reported that the self drive transfer Kia Carnival modification was their preferred modification.
Barry also informs me that Myra's plan review is 10/01/21 so I have pre-emptively attached a quote to modify a Carnival to suit Myra.
We will require final details of the wheelchair scripted for Myra but as she won't be travelling in the chair, it isn't a requirement to know imminently.

Barry has mentioned he will keep me in the loop (whether I like it or not ??) as changes come to light.
If there is anything further I can do to assist with Myra's vehicle mods, please don't hesitate to contact me.

30/09/2021	Terri Roberts	2 hrs	Meeting	Meeting conducted 30/09	Barry and Myra attended the FFG office to meet with SC Rachael. Discussed the procedure around the NDIS system in detail and explained Myra's NDIS plan, funding categories and what they are to be used for. Discussed Barry's questions around AT assessments, and advised that all requests for Assistive Technology and home modifications require an assessment by an OT. Myra's main priorities: 1. OT assessment for a (suitable) wheelchair - she currently has one but it is very old, hard to use and heavy to lift in and out of the car. 2. OT Driver training assessment (advised that she would need to be signed off by her GP first). 3. Physio sessions at home 4. Support worker for cleaning/gardening - check funding 5. Community access- would like support to attend different activities, shopping, go out for coffee, etc... Both Myra and Barry are keen to have the appropriate OT assessments completed before the review date is allocated, so that they can use their current funding. The TUSS taxi voucher scheme was also mentioned - Barry will get info from GP. Companion Card was discussed and is to be explored by Barry he has the forms SC to organise the Physio, and OT assessments for wheelchair and driving assessment.	$130.18

Hi Gita,

So sorry for the late response. I was off sick with the flu for over a week. All better now and back to work.
I'm not Myra's Support Coordinator. I just assisted with the referral process. I have cc'd Myra's SC in to this email.

Was the participant advised of the cancellation of appointment?

I hope everything is ok on your end Gita ??

Warm Regards,

Called Myra and introduced myself as the client intake officer at forward focused group, I informed her that I'm calling just so I can get some details so I can finish creating her profile. Before I stated getting the details I asked if she reviewed Vida's email regarding her phone appointment at 11am today and was seeing if she can do 10:30 instead. Myra stated that would be fine, I then got all the details and finished creating her profile and uploaded her NDIS plan.
