Hi Leah,

Thanks for your email and the summary.

Did Robert attend the meeting and/or has he been consulted at all?

I think the schedule system has been trialled before without success. Whilst some improvements were made, Robert kept accumulating items and the house was never in a state where supports would feel safe to enter.

In regards to going in and cleaning everything, this would likely take longer than 1-2 days if it is back in the state that I am familiar with. Prior to this occurring I would want weekly domestic assistance supports to be on board so that the property can be maintained. Whilst this would cause Robert some u[set, it is probably the option most likely to be successful.

Unfortunately I have nil contacts for Roberts family.

Kind regards,

Good Afternoon Tammy,

ppening if he doesn't wish to see it going on.

The other is that we set a schedule of works and he is able to assist with setting up rooms that he would agree to being cleaned
For example he may state the lounge room is to be done the first week and then each room per week or fortnight depending on which schedule he would like to set.
How ever the schedule does need to be set and stuck to prior to everything starting.

Let me know what you think would like to get your input and ideas as well.

Also Luke mention that in the last clean-up they threw out a family picture that Robert had of his parents.
Do you have any family contacts (Luke mentioned a brother) that I might be able to reach out to get a replacement for him?
I think it would be a nice touch to place it in one of the clean rooms for him.

I look forward to hearing from you,

Now that we have a date set I was hoping to ask if his regular support workers would be able to take some pictures of his home (the inside if possible). This will give us an idea of the costs involved in the clean up process and also give us a better idea on how he is progressing with is Hoarding behaviours. I'm not sure what policies you have in place in regards to support workers taking pictures. Please let me know if this is not going to be a possibility and I will have to come up with a new plan. Tammy also mention that she believes it would be worthwhile having Robert attend the meeting. Am I able to leave this with you to organise supports in place to get him there?	$50.07

Hi Yelena,

Thank you for making contact and really appreciate your input.

We are meeting at the Autism Foundation office room 4 on the 7th of September at 2pm.
It would be great if you were able to join us.

Best case scenario is that the Hoarding issue is not as extreme as prior to the previous clean up.
However it has been sometime since supports have been able to access the home as Robert generally waits outside for them to arrive.

I am hoping that his support workers may be able to get some pictures of the property prior to our meeting so we have a better idea of what we are dealing with.

23/08/2021	Leah Norman	3 hrs	Research	Hoarding Cleaners Research	I spent time this afternoon looking into options for Cleaning for Roberts house. I wish to have option available to Tammy and Autism Australia when the meeting is undertaken. There is enough funding in his plan to cover this but I wish to make sure we don't use to much as once the house is clean we will be able to commence more supports in home and will require funding for this. There are several option available and I have taken note but the most cost effective will be to have one company undertake it all and invoice on time. I will make sure I have several companies for Tammy to choose from when the time comes and some quotes in place based on my verbal description of the property	$300.42

23/08/2021	Leah Norman	1 hr	Email	Attempted Contact call and Follow up email	Good Afternoon Tammy, I have spoken with Dilwinder at the Autism Foundation and he is going to try and organise a meeting with Jamie Lukies, Dilwinder and myself. It would be great if you were able to attend also. Diwlinder stated that Robert is going really well with his Supports. However they are still not able to enter his home due to his hoarding activity. I believe it is now getting to the point were it is a Health and Safety Hazard. He is still very resistant to any interventions in this area but we may need to consider a clean up to bring the home back to a liveable standard. I would appreciate any information you are able to provide on whether or not you believe this is the best step forward for Robert. Keeping in mind we are unable to implement restrictive practices which this could be considered. I am not sure if this would overall assist Robert in the long run or the trauma of forcing this on him would set him back and we lose all the progress we have made up to this point. I believe that Dilwinder and Jamie will be the best people to answer these questions, and that we all have Roberts best interests at heart. I have also requested that the Support workers	$100.14

Hi Roimata,

Can you please advise how Roberts Plan is coming along?

Also has the Plan been rolled over in the interim? If so can you advise what funding Autism Association can access?

Leah please also advise if you happen to be aware of the above.

Regards,
